New York Markets.

WHEAT—On reports of cold weather in the West, the market opened firm at $74 for Dec.; Jan., 88%; May, 98%. Within the first bour, however, the market became rather unsteady, and free selling by the exporters and representatives of foreign houses checked all tendency to advance. At months market was dull but steady, with prices unchanged from the opening.

Corrow.—Futures opened steady this morning at prices ranging from 4 to 5 points higher than Saturday's close. Nov. sold at 10, 50; Dec., 10, 45; Jan., 10, 50; Feb., 10, 61; March, 10, 66; Aorh, 10, 74; May, 10, 81. There was no demand, however, at the advance, and the market soon become heavy, prices yielding 7 to 8 points from the opening up to moon, with little business done.

Permoterus.—The market was dull and flat for tiple line certificates to-day. The opening price was 18½, and at noon the limits of fluctuations had been 14½ and 14½. New York Markets.

SHARP MAY SOON KNOW HIS FATE.

The Decision of His Appeal Expected to be Made Public To-Morrow. The convening of the Court of Appeals at Albany has occasioned all sorts of speculative rumors as to the decision in the appeal of rumors as to the decision in the appeal of Jacob Sharp, which, it is generally expected, will be handed down to morrow.

Some have it that a clear majority of the Court is in favor of reversing the decision of the General Torm affirming the judgment and sustaining Justice Barrett's rulings, while others are equally certain that Sharp's last hope has been shattered and that the court has doomed him to Sing Sing.

At the District-Attorney's office these rumors are laughed at. Assistant District Attorney Nicoll said this morning: "You may safely put it down that noboby knows anything about it, aside from the members of the Court of Appeal themselves. I am certain that I don't."

Assistant District-Attorney Semple was of the same opinion, and said further that it is Assistant District-Attorney Semple was of the same opinion, and said further that it is quite possible that no decision may be handed down, if Judge Rapallo, who was first assigned to write the opinion of the Court, is too ill to participate in the judgment. The public or the parties in interest, he said, are never favored with an opinion or decision of the Court of Appeals until it is handed down from the bench.

COMPLAINING AGAINST GIBBS.

Many Customers of His Intelligence Office Relate Their Experience.

Mayor's Marshal Byrnes's office in the City Hall was crowded with men to-day who had made complaints against the intelligence office of J. B. Gibbs. When Gibbs walked through the room one of the men said something, and the temperance advocate turned around in an excited manner, exclaiming:

"You are insolent, sir! I did not come here to be insulted."

here to be insulted."

Lawyer Laird grasped Gibbs by the arm and ordered him to keep quiet. After hearing the testimony of several of the men, Gibbs left the office.

The stories told by the men were all alike. They had paid their money, but never secured a position.
